1 Introduction

This document is a comprehensive companion to an 8-month Arabic language learning journey based on the textbook At-Takallum: A Comprehensive Modern Arabic Course.

It serves as a central hub for:

- Detailed study notes
- Thematic and contextual vocabulary lists
- Practice exercises for grammar, reading, writing, listening, and speaking
- Supplementary resources for cultural and religious enrichment
- Tracking overall progression across all learning levels

The learning journey is divided into three stages, each aligned with a CEFR proficiency level and structured around thematic chapters designed to gradually build language skills in context.

1.1 Elementary Level (A1 Proficiency)

The Elementary Book consists of 8 foundational chapters focused on everyday communication and basic vocabulary:

1. Greetings and Introductions
  2. Family and Relationships
  3. School and Studies
  4. Food and Eating Habits
  5. Telling Time and Discussing Prices
  6. Holidays and Vacations
  7. Daily Routines and Activities
  8. Weather and Clothing

1.2 Pre-Intermediate Level (B1 Proficiency)

The Pre-Intermediate Book continues with more complex sentence structures and a wider vocabulary, divided into the following 8 thematic units:

1. Exploring Cairo and Transportation
  2. Housing and Daily Living
  3. Health and Well-being
  4. Shopping and Markets
  5. Jobs and the Workplace
  6. Tourist Attractions and Historical Sites
  7. Sports and Hobbies
  8. Past Memories and Storytelling

1.3 Intermediate Level (B2 Proficiency)

The Intermediate Book builds toward fluency, focusing on abstract topics and culturally rich discussions:

1. Describing People and Character Traits
  2. Religious Celebrations and Eid Traditions
  3. Humor and Storytelling
  4. Nature and Environmental Issues
  5. World Cultures and Social Traditions
  6. Arabic Proverbs, Sayings, and Wisdom
  7. Famous Historical Figures
  8. The Role of Education and Learning

1.3.1 Materials and Resources

- Supplementary notes, vocabulary decks, and grammar exercises
- Cultural and religious content to enrich learning context
- Translation practice using classical texts

Note

This document will evolve over time to reflect ongoing progress, feedback, and new materials. Contributions and suggestions are welcome.

2 – Introducing Yourself

Making a great first impression starts with the basics: greetings, names, nationalities, and simple questions. This unit introduces essential vocabulary and expressions for everyday social interactions — from saying hello to telling someone where you're from.

Use the table below to familiarize yourself with the most common phrases used in first encounters.

7 Insanely Effective Techniques to Memorize Vocabulary in a New Language

2.1 Key Vocabulary and Phrases

English	Arabic
Peace be upon you!
And peace be upon you!
Good morning!	/
How are you?	/
Fine, al-Hamdulillah	/
Welcome!	/
Welcome to you	/
What is your name?
My name is ...	...
Where are you from?
I am Egyptian
I am from Egypt
Good evening!	/
Nice to meet you	/ /
Goodbye / Farewell	/ / /
Job / Profession / Work	/ /
Student	/
Teacher	/ /
Translator
Worker / Laborer
Friend / Colleague	/
Carpenter
Retired
Journalist
Accountant
Mobile phone
Landline phone	/
Email
Address
Unemployed
He works

Try This!

Try translating the following English phrases into Arabic using only the vocabulary from Chapter 1.

1. “My name is ... and I am from ...”
2. “What is your name [masculine/feminine]?”
3. “I am Egyptian.”
4. “I am from Egypt.”
5. “Where are you from?”
6. “What is your profession?”
7. “I am a teacher.”
8. “I am fine, thanks.”
9. “Good morning!”
10. “Goodbye! See you later!”

2.2 Singular Pronouns

In Arabic, personal pronouns change depending on gender and number. Here are the singular pronouns:

English	Arabic	Pronunciation
I		anā
You (masc.)		anta
You (fem.)		anti
He		huwa
She		hiya

Possessive Endings Tip!

To express possession (like my book, your phone, his teacher), Arabic uses suffixes attached to the end of the noun. Here are the common possessive endings for singular pronouns:

- ( ) for → (my book)
- ( ) for → (your book, masc.)
- ( ) for → (your book, fem.)
- ( ) for → (his book)

- ( ) for → (her book)

These suffixes are directly attached to nouns to show ownership.

2.3 Nationalities

Nationalities in Arabic are based on the name of the country and are modified by adding masculine or feminine endings. These follow regular patterns and are important for introducing yourself or describing others.

💡 Country Roots & Nationalities

Country	Root (Base Word)	Nationality (Masc. / Fem.)
Egypt		/
Somalia		/
America		/

2.3.1 Examples:

- – I am Egyptian (male)
- – I am Egyptian (female)
- – He is Somali
- – She is American

Note: The masculine form usually ends in , and the feminine form ends in .

2.3.2 Practice Questions

Try answering the following using the correct nationality form:

1. (What is your nationality? — to a male)
2. (What is your nationality? — to a female)
3. Translate:
  - a. I am American (female)
  - b. He is Egyptian

c. She is Somali

2.4 Practice: A Conversation Between Two Friends

Friend 1: Hello!

Friend 2: Hello and welcome!

Friend 1: How are you?

Friend 2: I'm fine, thank God. And you?

Friend 1: I'm fine. What is your name?

Friend 2: My name is Ahmed. What is your name?

Friend 1: My name is Sarah. Where are you from?

Friend 2: I am from Egypt. And you?

Friend 1: I am from America. What is your job?

Friend 2: I am a teacher. And you?

Friend 1: I am a student. What is your address?

Friend 2: My address is 12 Cairo Street. What is your address?

Friend 1: My address is 8 Nile Avenue. What is your phone number?

Friend 2: My mobile number is 010-1234-5678. What is your number?

Friend 1: My phone number is 011-9876-5432. What is your email?

Friend 2: My email is ahmed@gmail.com. And yours?

Friend 1: My email is sarah@email.com.

Friend 2: Nice to meet you!

Friend 1: Nice to meet you too!

2.5 The Present Simple Tense With Singular Pronouns

In Arabic, verbs in the present tense are based on three-letter roots. Let's start with the verb يعمل (to work) and see how it changes with singular pronouns in the present tense.

Pronoun	Present Tense Verb	Example Sentence
I	أعمل	– I work as a translator
You (m)	تعمل	– You (m) work as a translator
You (f)	تعملين	– You (f) work as a translator
He	يعمل	– He works as a translator
She	تعمل	– She works as a translator

Note: Feminine job titles and pronouns require feminine verb forms and endings, like تعملين and تدركين.

2.5.1 Practice with These Root Verbs:

Verb Root	Meaning	Present Tense (He)
	to work to write to read to look to understand

2.5.2 Practice Prompts:

Try writing these for each singular pronoun (                      ):

1. “_____ writes an email.”
2. “_____ reads the book.”
3. “_____ looks at the address.”
4. “_____ understands the lesson.”
5. “_____ works as a teacher.”

Mix masculine and feminine forms!
